

Katey Howes

Author Visit to Haworth Public School Monday, April 24

We are delighted to announce that award-winning author Katey Howes will visit Haworth Public School on Monday, April 24th to discuss her books and the life and work of an author. Ms. Howes will be speaking to students in grades K-6.

An author visit is a wonderful opportunity for young readers to meet the creators of books they've read, and we have arranged for both students and teachers to purchase autographed copies of her books. Please consider extending this learning experience through the purchase of an autographed book.

About Her Books

Katey writes with the twin goals of helping children connect their own experience to the greater world, and of inspiring children to become lifelong readers. She loves exploring different techniques, styles and genres to match a theme and to build an immersive experience for the reader. Her debut picture book, Grandmother Thorn was named a 2018 Anna Dewdney Read Together Honor Book by the Children's Book Council. Publishers Weekly calls the folk-tale-style Grandmother Thorn "a visually arresting reminder that compromise has its benefits."

Katey is also the author of Magnolia Mudd And The Super Jumptastic Launcher Deluxe (2018), Be A Maker (2019), Rissy No Kissies (2021), A Poem Grows Inside You (2022), and Woven of the World (2022). Be A Maker was named the #1 Makerspace Read Aloud by Teach Outside the Box!

About The Author

When not writing for children, Katey contributes to websites and blogs about books, reading, parenting, and writing. She presents at writers' conferences and education summits, but much prefers any opportunity to read, play and create with children. Katey is most at home in libraries, bookshops, camps and museums full of curious kids – and books.

Katey lives in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, with her husband and three daughters. She and her family enjoy making everything from cupcakes to castles to catapults, exploring their wooded property, and traveling to new and exciting places. Katey is a former physical therapist. She loves math and science and is passionate about social change that empowers girls to see themselves as scientists, leaders, innovators and entrepreneurs. Katey reads widely, keeping librarians on their toes with requests for everything from children's poetry to cognitive neuroscience.
